JOHN W. EDMONDS
EDITOR AND OWNER.

ACCOMAC COURT HOUSE, VA.

Entered at the Post Office at Accomac C. H.,
Va., as Second-class Matter.

Saturday, July 6, 1907.

The Jamestown Exposition, severely criticised at its opening and for some time thereafter for its incompleteness and lack of attractions in many respects, as well as for the extortions practiced upon visitors at the grounds and in Norfolk, is now being more highly praised and commended by all whose opinions are worth anything, than it was once condemned. Statesmen, soldiers, and philosophers, who have visited all the great Expositions of world unite in the opinion that "in architectural and natural beauty the Jamestown show has never had a parallel," and since the exhibits have been opened out there seems to be but one opinion in regard to them—that for excellence they have rarely been surpassed and there is enough of them to interest and engage the attention of visitors, if they spent the whole time in the grounds until the close of the Exposition. Extortion too, according to late advice, is a thing of the past. The Exposition now, in fact, is universally praised, all practically concurring with Secretary Cortelyou, "that he had visited more interesting places while there than he had seen at any previous Exposition" and with the Governor of Maryland in the following:

"I have visited the Centennial in Philadelphia in 1876, the Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893, and the St. Louis Fair in 1904, and I can say without exaggeration that the Jamestown Exposition is superior to them all, from any standpoint. The architectural and natural beauty of the Exposition is without parallel. As far as the charges of extortion that have been made against the restaurants and other interests here are concerned, I will say that they are without truth, for I have investigated myself. I had a party of friends to dinner here and the bill surprised me. I would have willingly paid that much for the music which went with the dinner.

"Because the Government pier is not finished you should not blame these patriotic people for it. Get after the Government, they are to blame. In a few weeks this spot will mark the most beautiful Exposition that America has ever known."

Hon. John S. Wise made a notable speech at the annual meeting of the Bar Association of Maryland on Wednesday on centralization by construction, in which he made a vigorous attack on President Roosevelt and his theories in regard to the centralization of power in the Federal Government. The speech was a powerful argument in defense of the rights of the States, and coming as it did from a man, who has made himself odious to most Democrats because of his extreme Republican views in the past, created a sensation at the place where it was delivered and is received with surprise by the people of Virginia. Another interesting statement made by Mr. Wise in the course of his address was that the present Secretary of State had declared, that negro suffrage is a failure and that the Roosevelt administration is proceeding on that theory—and that while it was a humiliating confession to the Republican party he was not there to deny it.

A successor of State Librarian Kennedy may be appointed, it is stated, at a meeting of the Library Board to be held in Richmond to-day and Mr. Frank P. Brent, former secretary of the State Board of Education, is prominently mentioned as a candidate for the position. In the light of a recent investigation and his present unenviable notoriety, in putting a stenographer in charge of the library during his absence at the Exposition, over the head of older and more experienced persons, there ought to be no question as to his removal from office, and if he is to be deposed the fitness and capacity of Mr. Brent should commend him to the Board, and it is to be hoped that his claims will be recognized and the position be given to him. The appointment of no one would be more gratifying to the people of Tidewater Virginia and no one could, we believe, fill the place more satisfactorily to the most of the people of the State.

The Times-Dispatch of Richmond is justly commended and seems to have voiced the sentiment of the people and press of Virginia, in regard to the "unwritten law" and acquittal of Judge Loving in the following:

The acquittal of Judge Loving is enough to alarm the State. If this trial and verdict establish a precedent in Virginia, hereafter when a woman charges a man with an offense against her honor, and relates it to a male member of the family and so inflames his passion as to cause a "brainstorm," such a man will be justified in slaying the person accused. Can any doctrine more dangerous than this be imagined? It is simply astounding.

This must not be the practice in Virginia. We are carrying the "unwritten law" and the doctrine of irresponsibility to absurd and dangerous extremes. Public sentiment must be aroused and crystallized, and there must be a radical revision of the criminal law by the next Legislature.

Rev. B. Cabel Hening, field agent for the Richmond College corporation, who is engaged in the work of securing the half million dollar fund for the building of a Woman's College and for the strengthening of Richmond College, has called a meeting of several hundred selected men from all parts of the State to confer with him in Richmond July 16 and 17. - July 24, 1907.

Railroads Injure Law.

Richmond, Va., July 1.—This was the day set for the trial of the Virginia case to put into effect the 2-cent passenger rate ordered by the State Corporation Commission several months ago. The railroad since that time have gone into the courts and begun proceedings stopping the commission from the enforcement of the order. In order to protect themselves, however, in case of adverse decision, three of the companies gave rebate checks when they began selling tickets this morning. The matter is being argued before Judge Pritchard, in the Federal court at Asheville, N. C., and will probably consume several days. The Chesapeake and Ohio, the Norfolk and Western and the Southern (the latter being the one which instituted the proceedings) issued coupons in each instance where a charge of more than 2 cents a mile was made today.

The Seaboard Air Line and the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac roads utterly disregarded the order of the commission. The Seaboard is not a party to the proceedings at Asheville and is acting just as though the commission had never been created.

Another conflict of authority and disposition on the part of the library, the librarian, the director, the employees of the institution and to distinguish the employees friendly to him arose Monday. Kennedy named Miss Rison, a stenographer, to be in charge of the office during his absence and that of the assistants. S. S. P. Patterson, the first Assistant Librarian Evans named Mrs. Minor, reference librarian, to have charge, and Edmund Pendleton a member of the board, endorsed the last named lady. There the matter stands.

Governor Swanson has received $150 from a conscience-stricken man now living in Maryland. The writer of the letter was a former Virginian, who was engaged in business at a point which he named. He says he sold liquor and that he owes the State of Virginia $150 for failure to comply with the laws and desires to make amends by giving to the State the money which he went into the general fund of the treasury.

Candidates Cards of Thanks.
To the voters of Accomac Co.
We, the undersigned, thank each and all for their liberal support in our efforts to secure the passage of the duties of said office to the best of our ability.

Very respectfully,
Alfred J. Lilliston,
Wm. H. Pruitt, Jr.
July 3rd 1907.

To the voters of Accomac Co.
After a long fought battle, ending in my defeat for the office of sheriff, I thank my friends for their most liberal support and assure them that their efforts in my behalf will have an everlasting place in my heart for their loyalty towards me, and to those who thought best to support my opponents I have no ill-feelings. I bow to the will of the people and shall support the nominee against all comers. I am a candidate four years hence for the office. Again thanking all, I am, Respectfully,
Ben T. Melling.

To my friends and fellow citizens of Accomac county:
Having been defeated after a long and tedious contest for the office of Co. Treasurer for the county, I wish to thank every one who supported me, and for those who thought it best to give their support to my opponents, I entertain no ill-will, I bow to the wishes of the majority of the people and I shall give the ticket my hearty support this fall. It is my present intention to be a candidate four years hence for same office.
Respectfully,
Leonidas R. Doughty.

To the people of Accomack county:
After a very arduous campaign, the battle of the ballots was fought last Saturday at the polls; and the end finds me not only without bitterness for any one, but with smiles for those who fought me and a heart filled with everlasting gratitude for the army of loyal friends who stood by me, advocated my cause and gave me their vote. I feel proud of the support accorded me by the good people of old Accomack, and I trust that the confidence reposed will never be violated. If elected at the general election, it shall be my pleasure and duty to fearlessly and boldly represent the will of the people in the next General Assembly of Virginia.

John R. Rew,
Parksley, Va.
July 1st, 1907.

To the people of Atlantic district.
Acknowledging my indebtedness to you for your many favors in the past and the renewal of your confidence in me by the hearty support you gave me at the polls on last Saturday, I wish to offer my sincere thanks and to pledge myself to try to discharge the duties of the office in the future in a way that will be more acceptable to you, and in the best interest of all the people. Thanking you again sincerely for the many evidences of your kindness to me, I am, most truly,
E. T. Ross, Sr., constable.

I congratulate all the nominees of the late primary, which is equivalent to election. No one wishes them more success in office for the interest of the people than myself. I shall ever vote and work for the above principles against corporate influence, until I pass over the river and rest under the shade of the trees. With best wishes to all I am,
Yours very truly,
A. F. Mears.

Write to us for estimates on doors sash, blinds, stair-rails and all other kinds of building material, hardware, paints, etc. Stock large, prices low. Mr. R. D. Fletcher will be at Accomac Court H. the first day of every County Court, to receive orders for the firm.
